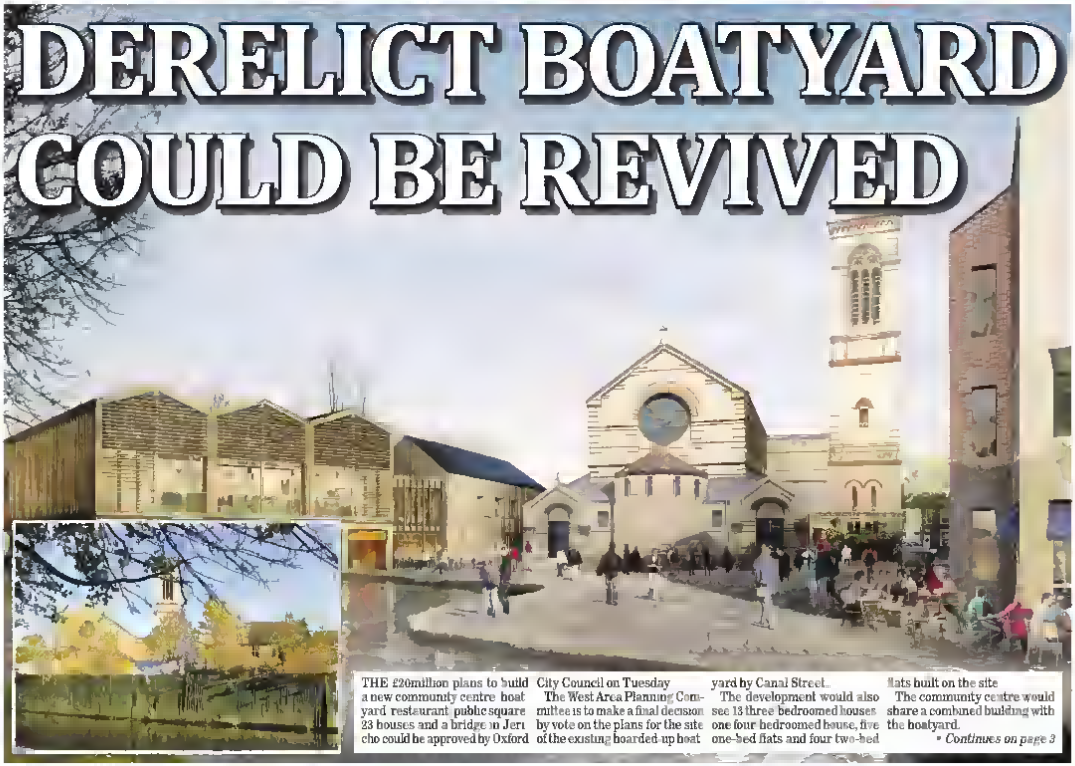
DERELICT BOATYARD COULD BE REVIVED



THE £20million plans to build a new community centre boat yard restaurant public square 23 houses and a bridge in Jericho could be approved by Oxford City Council on Tuesday.

The West Area Planning Committee is to make a final decision by vote on the plans for the site of the existing boarded-up boat yard by Canal Street.

The development would also see 13 three-bedroomed houses one four-bedroomed house, five one-bed flats and four two-bed flats built on the site.

The community centre would share a combined building with the boatyard.

OPERATION BULLFINCH

Up to 70 children at risk of sexual exploitation

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

SOCIAL workers are currently dealing with up to 70 children in Oxfordshire at risk of being sexually exploited Thames Valley Police has revealed

The figures were announced hours after county police chiefs held a press briefing about the problem on Monday

They also said in the past two years over 200 child protection referrals were made to the police s Kingfisher team set up to safeguard children from being sexually assaulted – between November 2012 and 2014

The Kingfisher team, launched in 2012, also issued over 45 abduction notices lo men associated with underage girls

Supt Christian Bunt, area commander for Oxford said police will keep targeting poorly run bostels and botels that rent by the hour to crack down on child sexual exploitation in the city

Operation Bullfinch saw seven men jailed for 95 years in 2013 after being convicted of offences Including rape facilitating child prostitulion and Irafficking young women in Oxford between 2004 and 2012

Many of the offences were al the Nanford Guest House in Iffley Road

Police also raided Athens Guest House in Cowley Road with a warrant in November last year as part of a separate investigation and took away five women

Supt Punt said, "Anywhere we don t feel is being run in the way we expect and have toose practices about people being able to come and go we will be looking very closely at these premises

"They are just the kind of places Ihe exploitation was occurring in Operation Bullfinch."

A 45 year old man and 25-year old woman were arrested on suspicion of intentionally arranging for people to enter the country to engage in sexual exploitation follwing the warraol at the Athena Guest House

Supt Bunt said "That was around exploitation, trafficking and prostitution.

"It was linked with child sexual exploitation because al the time we did not know the ages of the girls who were involved.

"If that premises is running itself in a way that prostitution can take place in that location and we know it was because we have had girls confirm that is the case, Ihen that is just the kind of establishment that child sexual exploitation can take place

"It is poor management practices. Il is rooms Ihal can be rented by the hour"

BULLFINCH TIMELINE:

MAY 2011 Thames Valley Police launch Operation Bullfinch to investigate child sexual exploitation in Oxford.

MARCH 2012 Thirteen men are arrested after over 100 police officers raid 14 addresses in Oxford. Six of the men appear at Aylesbury Crown Court, while the other seven are bailed The number af alleged victims rises from 24 to 36.

JANUARY 2013 Nine men charged with 50 offences in relation to sex crimes towards underage girls go on trial al the Old Bailey in London.

MAY 2013 Kamar Jamil Akhtar Dogar Anjum Dogar Assad Hussain, Mohammed Karrar Bassam Karrar and Zeeshan Ahmed are convicted of offences including rape facilitating child prostitution and trafficking between 2004 and 2012. Mohammed Hussain is cleared of three offences and a 26 year old man is acquitted af sexual activity with a child

JUNE 2013 The seven men are jailed for 95 years in total

AUGUST 2013 – Oxford West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood launches the Childhood Lort campaign to prevent vulnerable children being groomed

SEPTEMBER 2013 – Oxford East MP Andrew Smith writes in his Oxfordshire Guardian column tessons need lo be learnt from Bultfinch

JANUARY 2014 – Oxfordshire County Council s chief executive Joanna Simens says social workers and police will work tirelessly to stop sexual exploitation of children.

JUNE 2014 – Bilal Ahmed is jailed for Ihree and a half years after being found guilty of one count of sexual assault His cousin Zeeshan Ahmed is sentenced to 16 months for perverting the course of justice and Mustafa Ahmed is jailed for 16 months for one count af sexual assaul

NOVEMBER 2014 Police raid the Athena Guest House in Cowley Road as part of an investigalion linked to sexual exploitation.

'No signs of child grooming in south Oxfordshire'

TOWNS in South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse have seen no evidence of major cases of child sexual exploitation despite the problem rising in neighbouring Oxford – the area s police chief confirmed on Monday

Bul South and Vale s area commander Supl Andy Boyd said there are places thal children are behaving in a way that could make themselves vulnerable.

He was speaking at a press briefing at St Aldate s police station in Oxford which focused on the city

However Supt Boyd explained lessons have been learnt to stop the same thing happening in southern Oxfordshire

Supt Boyd said "We are learning the lessons from other areas and have the right preventative strategies in place

"There are a small minority of locations that are generally in large towns where young people are behaving in such a way to make themselves vulnerable"

He added "It is a small number of people thal we are identifying, who we are engaging with and preventing them from putting themselves at risk"

New hotel watch project for north of the county

CHERWELL and West Oxfordshire s new police chief believes a new Hotel Watch scheme will educate businesses about the dangers of child sexual exploitation

The initiative was launched in Cherwell in December and will see owners share information and concerns with police officers

Supt Kath Lowe said "It is an opportunity for us ta educate them and raise awareness of child sexual exploitatian

"As we know in Oxford hotels and guest houses have been where some of the offences have taken place

"Il gives us a chance to share information with them"

Supt Lowe also said officers have been visiting schools while a play called Chelsea's Choice has been performed ta pupils to increase their understanding of sexual exploitation

She added, "It is a less formal way of trying to make people make links with themselves

"When you start speaking to people they will suddenly say that one to me and that one lo me and we start thinking in a different way"

Decision day on plans for boarded up land

• From front page

A report by council officers on the plans published on Tuesday recommends they be passed.

The proposals for the site were first submitted last May by London based developers Strategic Icone Assets Heritage Aquisition Fund (SIAHAF).

Since then negotiations had been ongoing between councillors residents and developers.

Susanna Pressel city councillor for Jericho and Osney said: "This important site has been derelict for almost 10 years – it would be wonderful to see it brought back into use.

"However the big slumbling block is the low percentage of social housing proposed – only 30 per cent of the units – all of which are small flats.

"Also because they want as much space as possible for the luxury housing they are proposing to put the community centre on top of the boatyard which will make it cost more."

It is the latest in a series of proposals for the land which has seen plans for 46 dwellings and 54 flats turned down.

Nick Band spokesman for developer SIAHAF said: "It's been a long and hard graft over the past 12 months consulting with all the local societies making amendments listening to opinions and trying to bring them all together.

But we're very pleased [with the recommendation] and we're also pleased for Jericho.

"The site's been derelict for many years and now something hopefully will be done with it."

SIAHAF are hoping that work could begin in March and last for approximately 18 months.

The meeting starts at 6.30pm in Oxford Town Hall St Aldate's.

Patient bids to calm fears of MRI scans with video

A PATIENT at Oxford's Churchill Hospital has created a video showing what it is like to have an MRI scan in the hope of alleviating fears others may have about having one.

John Milnes has produced a video showing the entire process from receiving the appointment letter to experiencing the scan and getting the results.

He was diagnosed with colon cancer and secondary tumours in the liver four years ago and underwent MRI scans at the hospital during that time.

And he was keen to document the procedure so other patients would have an idea of what to expect.

"Having an MRI scan for the first time is potentially quite daunting," he said.

"I would have loved something like this showing me what to expect before I had mine."

MRI scans last for around 20 minutes and provide doctors with detailed images of bone and soft tissues.

Churchill Hospital superintendent radiographer Anthony McIntyre said: "Anything that helps to make it a less stressful environment for patients is a good thing for everybody.

"The video dispels several myths... I would recommend that patients watch it before they come in if they have any doubts."

To watch it, go to youtube.com/watch?v=D02MT9m4rww

'Outstanding' young rugby ace is killed in Bermuda

TRIBUTES have been paid to a young Gosford rugby player who was killed in a motorcycle accident in Bermuda last week.

Stephen Edwards, 19 (pictured), was involved in a collision on December 30 and died from his injuries the following day.

He played for Gosford All Blacks near Kidlington and had been named as the club's Young Player of the Year.

A statement posted on the club's Facebook page read: "Very sadly Stephen Edwards, who represented this club with such class both on and off the pitch, has passed away.

"He was a real talent with the ball and academic success that dwarfed even his numerous sporting achievements.

"Our thoughts are with the Edwards family at this horrible time."

A rugby match was held at Somersfield Academy School in Bermuda on New Year's Day in memory of Stephen.

He played as left wing for Gosford and made regular appearances for the club in the 2013/14 season, winning 12 and losing seven of the games he featured in.

By Adam Flinn
adam@trjolornewspapers.co.uk

Stephen had made one appearance in the current season, which saw the squad lose to Reading Abbey 30-22 on September 20.

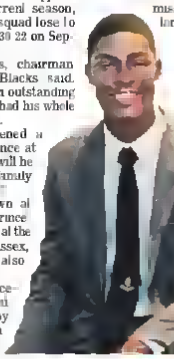
David Hopkiss, chairman of Gosford All Blacks, said: "Stephen was an outstanding young man and had his whole life ahead of him.

"We have opened a book of condolence at the club, which will be sent on to his family upon completion."

Stephen, known at Gosford as 'The Prince', was studying law at the University of Sussex, where he was also playing rugby.

Writing on Facebook, Sussex University Rugby coach Gavin Richardson said: "From every one of his team mates and myself as his coach still coming to terms with the loss of Stephen, we pass on our sincerest and heartfelt condolences to his family.

"He was a true gentleman, a real talent and will be greatly missed but never forgotten."



University starts second Ebola trials

MORE than 70 people are set to be given a new Ebola vaccine as part of a trial at Oxford University this month.

The Oxford Vaccine Group, part of the university's Department of Paediatrics, are vaccinating 72 healthy adult volunteers aged 18 to 50 from across the county and beyond.

They will make a maximum of 12 visits to the Churchill Hospital over the next year.

"The main aim is to understand the safety profile of the vaccines," said Dr Matthew Snape, who is leading the study team.

"The devastating Ebola epidemic in Guinea, Liberia and Sierra Leone continues to see hundreds of new cases each week and has placed a huge burden on these countries' infrastructures.

"While public health measures are currently still the best way to bring the outbreak under control, if we have a safe and effective vaccine it could begin to have an impact later this year."

It follows a previous trial of a vaccine by a separate university team in September involving 60 volunteers, the first results of which are expected this month.

The university is looking for volunteers for the latest trial. For more information, go to ebolavaccine.org.uk.

Police arrest 60 in Oxfordshire during drink drive campaign

POLICE arrested 60 people on suspicion of drunk driving in Oxfordshire last month, figures revealed yesterday.

The Thames Valley Police campaign against drunk and drug driving ran from December 1 to January 1.

In total the force, which also covers Berkshire and Buckinghamshire, arrested 273 people.

The figure was down three per cent compared with the same campaign last year, despite officers breath testing double the number of drivers.

Chief Inspector Henry Parsons (pictured), head of the Thames Valley roads policing unit, said: "The fall in arrests against the backdrop of more tests is welcomed."

Of the 273 arrested, 152 have been charged, 83 have been released on bail and 58 people have been released with no further action.

The 'Is it worth the risk?' campaign saw police targeting drivers they suspected of driving under the influence of drink or drugs, both on the way home from nights out and the morning after a heavy night.

By Katriona Ormiston
katriona@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Chief Inspector Parsons added: "Drink driving affects many people every day, whether through causing death or serious injury, or offenders living with the consequences of criminal justice.

"By taking drink drivers off the road we hope to have made our road network safer.

"Whilst the Christmas campaign may have finished, we remain focussed on tackling drink drivers every single day of the year due to the significant risks they pose."

New crematorium open

A NEW £4million crematorium opened to the Vale of White Horse on Friday.

The South Oxfordshire Crematorium and Memorial Park, between East Hanney and Frilford, can serve more than 188,000 people.

It can hold up to 200 people and created four jobs.

The site has a chapel, organ, two screens to show photos and a web cam to film services for people who cannot attend.

Howard Hodgson (pictured), chief executive officer of the crematorium's operator Memoria, said: "We believe families will appreciate the opportunity to receive a distinguished service in a beautiful setting.

"We realise that we are unable to eradicate the pain of bereavement however we also know that it is our duty to be as efficient, kind, respectful and polite as humanly possible.

"The new Memorial Park will achieve this through the quality of our dedicated staff, and will also help to alleviate the pressure on time slots."

Woman rescued by Grove railway track

A WOMAN found lying by train tracks near Station Road in Grove on Monday afternoon was rescued and taken to hospital.

British Transport Police (BTP) were called at 12.39pm where she was found by the railway line and taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital.

A BTP spokesman said: "Colleagues from Thames Valley Police, South Central Ambulance and the air ambulance also attended and a woman was located by the side of the tracks.

"Medics safely removed the woman from the tracks and she was flown to the John Radcliffe Hospital where she will undergo an assessment."

It is unclear what happened in the incident although BTP said that she had not been hit by a train. Her injuries, if any, are currently unknown.

First Great Western said that services on the line between Didcot and Swindon were disrupted until around 2.30pm the same day.

Churchill to be honoured in Bladon church window

AN OXFORDSHIRE church s designs for e new stained glass window featuring Sir Winston Churchill have been unveiled, to mark 50 years since the former Prime Minister s death.

By Adam Flinn
jacko.trg@oxfordnewspapers.co.uk

St Martin's Church in Bladon near Woodstock, the final resting place of Churchill, wants to install the new window on the south side of the building.

There is not currently a memorial to the Blenheim Palace born politician inside the church, just a simple family grave in the grounds.

He died on January 24 1965.

The window was the idea of St Martins Parochial Church Council which has been working over the last 18 months to get the idea up and running.

Robert Courts, chair of the Winston Churchill Memorial Window Committee on the council said: "We get thousands of people visiting each year on the tourist trail as they come up from London.

"But there's nothing in the church itself, so we thought it would be a good 50th anniversary to have a stained glass window.

He continued: "For us it does the trick perfectly with the way the church is designed, and it makes our tribute to a secular figure but without it being cheesy."

An image of Churchill is featured at the bottom of the window with the main images being of St Martin on the left and St Alban on the right.

Other symbols include a butterfly – a favourite of Churchill – his bow tie, the V for Victory salute and an image of barbed wire to represent his escape from a Boer prisoner of war camp.

Mr Courts added: "We thought we could kill two birds with one stone here by depicting St Martin, who currently doesn't have a window in what is his church.

"So you've got religious figures when you first look at it, and then when you look in detail round the sides there are lots of objects that reflect Churchill's life.

"It's still early days as we're getting the word out, but we've had a great response.

Around £30 000 needs to be raised for the window.

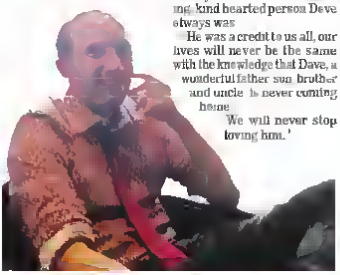
Tributes paid to 'kind hearted' crash victim

THE family of a man killed in a collision near Shrivenham on December 27 have paid tribute to a "wonderful father, son, brother and uncle".

David King, 32, died following a collision on the B4000 between Shrivenham and Ashbury, close to Zutu Farm.

The Ford Focus he was driving collided with a tree.

He was pronounced dead at the scene.



His family released a tribute to him on December 30, which read: "He was always the life and soul of the party enjoying nights out at the local and nights in with his family.

"Although his life was cut tragically short, he touched the lives of everybody he met.

"This is reflected within the outpouring of love and care we have received and a great testimony to what a fantastic, loving, kind hearted person Dave always was.

"He was a credit to us all, our lives will never be the same with the knowledge that Dave, a wonderful father, son, brother and uncle, is never coming home.

"We will never stop loving him."

Campaigners look to otters to stop quarry

By Adam Flinn
adam@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

RESIDENTS against plans to dig a quarry in southern Oxfordshire believe otters living in the area could come to their rescue

Hills Quarry Products want to turn 160 hectares of land between Clifton Hampden, Long Wittenham Appleford and Culham into a quarry to extract sand and gravel

But campaign group BACHPORT (Burcot and Clifton Hampden Protection of the River Thames) warn it would "ruin" the countryside

They believe otters which are legally protected, could be using the Thames and streams

Ecologist and wildlife campaigner Bob Eetes said "It is likely otters breed in the Clifton Hampden area.

"The smaller streams on Fullamoor Farm are likely to be a refuge for females and their cubs when disturbance is high on the main river during the boating season

"The proposed quarry is of great concern to me because without such places the increase in otter numbers and distribution may be halted or even reversed"

BACHPORT chairman Ian Mason added "We welcome the support of Dr Eetes – his report highlights the risk to otters and wildlife in this beautiful part of the countryside posed by the development of a quarry

"It is not only wildlife that would be under threat – a quarry would have a serious impact on the quality of life for hundreds of residents and visitors and would ruin the enjoyment they experience."

Hills Quarry Products is yet to submit a full planning application to Oxfordshire County Council for the quarry

Spokesperson Monique Hayes said "Independent consultants are assessing all possible environmental effects. Hills Quarry Products has extensive experience in partnership working with local wildlife bodies to protect wildlife and ultimately deliver in areas that are rich in wildlife and regarded as assets for local communities."

Thinking of the future

THE return of our children to school for a new term prompts me to turn to what we have done for those growing up in our society.

We are helping families and young people have the security of owning their own home not saddling them with our debts – giving them a good education, and providing them with the reward of a meaningful job and a decent standard of living.

The way to provide for a better future for our children is to turn the economy round from the appalling state it was left in and provide opportunities for the future.

First there are now jobs for our young people. For the equivalent of every day this government has been in office it has created an average of 1,000 new jobs.

Unemployment in the constituency stands at 270.

Youth unemployment stands at just 40.

That's a beacon of hope, not something to be slagged off.

We've delivered two million apprenticeships since 2010, helping young people.

Second, our economy has grown faster than any other major advanced nation and it continues to perform well.

Around the constituency I've seen just how well our companies are expanding and improving exports.

Thirdly, our Help to Buy scheme has helped tens of thousands of people buy their first home, giving hope that our children will be able to find somewhere to live and that they can afford to buy.

We need to stay on the road to a stronger economy. That's the long term economic plan.

Research project may aid amputees

By Adam Flinn
adam@oxfordmediagroup.co.uk

A NEW study by Oxford researchers into how the brain sends messages to people who only have one hand could lead to advances in therapy given to amputees

The team from Oxford University and Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust studied what happens to large parts of the brain that controls movement when a hand is missing

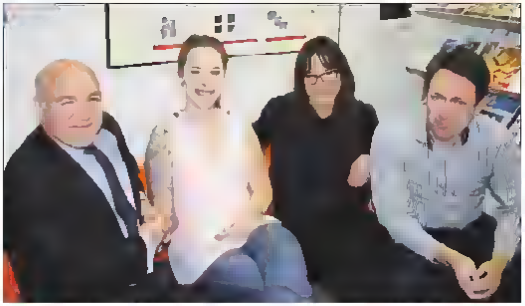
They looked at how the brain adjusts to complete everyday tasks such as tying shoelaces

Researchers used MRI scans to measure brain responses of amputees at the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre

Study leader Dr Tamar Makin said "This study tells us a lot about the science of how the brain works and how it adapts really flexibly to compensate for a disability

One of the key findings was that the brain doesn't care if you are born with one hand

"The brain is not fussy about whether there is a hand at the end of the arm, a prosthetic or a stump – so long as it is used in a similar way."



• David Henderson Slater, study participant Kirsty Mason, Tamar Makin and Clay Wesenberg at the launch of the study on Monday

Clay Wesenberg, 38, from Oxford, was one of the amputees who took part in the study after he was born with just one hand.

He said: "I was pleased to take part in this research project and am excited about how it could help others adjust to losing a limb.

"It's been interesting to find out a little more about the changes my brain has made to enable me to carry out everyday tasks."

Researchers believe that this latest publication will help with further study about the pain people with one limb sometimes feel and how it might be possible to take advantage of the brain's adaptability.

Dr David Henderson Slater, co-author of the study added: "We have always known that some people adapt to the loss of a limb very soon.

"This study helps to understand the neuronal basis for this and shows us that the brain adapts and learns how to supplement for the hand loss.

"We may be able to incorporate this knowledge into the therapy we offer to new amputees."

Help at hand for college students

A NEW course for students designed to help them apply for apprenticeships launches on Monday at Abingdon and Witney College.

The Catapult programme helps youngsters develop a range of skills to help them gain and sustain employment through carrying out individual tasks and team work.

Students learn how to apply for jobs through the course and are also supported in securing apprenticeships on offer at the college.

Callum Davies-Allen is one of the students who has already benefitted from the programme while it was being tested.

He said: "I thought the Catapult programme was great.

"It gave me a chance to build up my interview techniques, write a better CV as well as build my confidence."

Russell Paul, head of business development at the college, added: "Students gain a great deal from this short course.

"It runs for one day a week for three weeks allowing flexibility for students who often have other commitments.

"It can also be a good way back into learning and onto employment as we teach students the importance of positive behaviour and develop their skills to approach working with local employers."

Hall is asset

WITNEY Langdale Hall has been listed as an asset of community value by West Oxfordshire District Council.

The Langdale Gate building was nominated last month and means community groups have six months to prepare a bid if they want to buy the hall.

Owners Witney Town Council found a buyer but the sale will now have to be delayed

Diana Shelton the council's head of communities said "This delay is intended to give an increased chance for the local community to bid to buy the asset."

Community building project gets underway

By Adam Flinn
adam@targetnewspapers.co.uk

BUILDING work has begun on the last phase of Bicester s Pioneer Square regeneration project

The new £6 5million five-storey community building being constructed on Franklins Yard car park will include a new library and hotel as well as retail and office units

Contractors arrived at the site on Monday

Work is expected to take over a year to finish

The car park closed on Sunday evening ahead of the build starting

Norman Bolster Cherwell District Council's lead member for estates and economy said "The Bicester Community Building is the second and final stage of the town centre regeneration project which has previously included the delivery of Pioneer Square

"The building will represent a landmark feature for the town, designed to complement and enhance the existing businesses within Bicester while offering a range of new services for both residents and visitors

"It will give a major boost to the local economy through the immediate construction jobs which will be required to build the structure

Subsequent positions will be created across the numerous businesses that will be housed within this building"

The project will cost around £6 5m to complete and will cover one quarter of a hectare of land

The ground floor will include a link point office for the district council a solicitors office and space for a restaurant.

Upstairs on the second floor will be the county council operated library and space for the Bicester Local History Society while the third floor will be made up of office units.

And the fourth and fifth floors will be home to a 53-bed Travelodge hotel.

It is hoped that the building will be open for business by the spring of 2016

Home straight for Cherwell's local plan

A FINAL decision as to whether Cherwell District Council s local plan will be approved is expected to be announced this spring

Government inspector Nigel Payne concluded his three-week examination into the plan just before Christmas

It lists the council's preferred sites for more than 22 000 homes and 234 5 hectares of employment space across the district to be built between 2011 and 2031

The original plan published last January was revised in the summer to incorporate new housing targets

Michael Gibbard, the council s lead member for planning said "It has taken 10 years numerous officers and thousands of man hours to get the submitted local plan to this stage but we are finally on the home straight

The inspector will now review all of the evidence before announcing whether to endorse refuse or amend the plan in the spring

Until then we will continue to use the submitted local plan as guidance for any planning applications

About 10 129 homes are allocated for Bicester 7 319 in Banbury and 5 392 in Kidlington and across rural areas

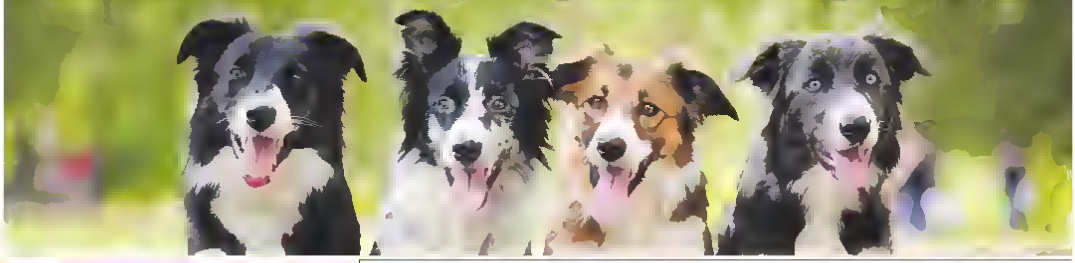
Free microchipping with Dogs Trust



DOGS TRUST formerly known as the National Canine Defence League, is an animal welfare charity and humane society in the United Kingdom which specialises in the well-being of dogs.

The charity rehabilitates and finds new homes for dogs which have been abandoned or given up by their owners. People are encouraged to sponsor a dog for at least £1 a week, even if they are not able to rehome the dog. It also runs microchipping and neutering schemes in the United Kingdom and abroad, in order to reduce the number of unwanted litters of puppies and stray dogs put to sleep by other organisations.

Dogs Trust has over 100 rehoming centres across the UK and its first international rehoming centre opened in November 2008 in Dublin. The charity claims never to put a healthy dog to sleep.

History

The National Canine Defence League (NCDL) was founded in 1891 at a meeting during the first Crufts show chaired by Lady Gertrude Stock. The NCDL campaigned against vivisection, unnecessary muzzling and prolonged chaining, as well as providing care for stray dogs. It also campaigned against cruel treatment of dogs by railway companies, who often refused to provide water for dogs. More unusually, in the 1920s it provided AA wardens with pistols. This was because dogs and other animals were often involved in car accidents, and the pistols were provided to allow the wardens to euthanise the animal as a last resort in the worst cases. In 1957, the NCDL campaigned against the use of the Russian space dogs in space flight, organising a minute's silence in honour of Laika, who died in orbit from overheating and stress. In 2003, the NCDL was rebranded as Dogs Trust.

Slogans

The charity is best known for its slogan "A Dog is for Life, not just for Christmas", which is used either in full or shortened to "A Dog is for Life" in advertising. The phrase was created to reduce the number of dogs which are abandoned as unwanted by Clarissa Baldwin, the former Chief Executive of the charity. The slogan is a registered trademark. More recently it has adopted another slogan, "Dogs Trust Never Put a Healthy Dog Down".

Rehoming

Dogs Trust tries to rehome most dogs which it cares for and it runs 18 rehoming centres across the UK and Ireland, as well as two large mobile rehoming units known as Dogmobiles. These are large vehicles filled with air conditioned kennels and are specially designed to tour the local area, carrying a small number of dogs from nearby rehoming centres that are desperately seeking new homes.

Dogs Trust never euthanises healthy dogs, however some dogs may have had a particularly bad start in life and would not be happy living in a normal home environment. The charity takes care of these dogs under its popular Sponsor a Dog scheme.

They have also created a sanctuary where selected dogs can live together free from excessive human contact.

At the beginning of June 2012, the charity opened its eighteenth UK rehoming centre in Leicestershire. Dogs Trust Loughborough aims to be the greenest animal rescue centre in the world. The centre runs on renewable energy from its biomass boiler, green roofs, under floor heating, solar thermal panels, photovoltaic panels and a rainwater recycling system. The project will be constructed with the aim to achieve BREEAM (BRE Environmental Assessment Method) outstanding classification and the highest levels of sustainability. The charity says the facilities will significantly reduce running costs.

Campaigns

Dogs Trust has campaigned against docking of tails and unnecessary euthanasia, such as that carried out on foxhounds after fox hunting was banned by the Hunting Act 2004. It also offers free neutering services in certain poorer countries and runs international training programmes for other animal welfare charities with the aim of reducing feral populations.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Beating January blues

By James Richings
jamesr@thamespress.co.uk

THE Oxford Wine Cafe will be jazzing up the evening on Sunday.

Jazz musician Josephine Arthur will take the stage at the South Parade venue.

The 41-year old, who has been performing since the age of five, will be singing alongside Cheltenham's finest jazz pianist Alex Steele, drummer Matt Fisher and bassist Paul Jeffries.

Josephine regularly performs as part of a duo or in a trio.

"This is my fourth performance at The Oxford Wine Cafe and it is one of my favourite gigs," she told the Guardian.

"On the day I will be singing songs inspired by the 1920s era, which will include lively swing, Charleston, speak easy and some soothing ballads."

She added: "When we perform we perform in the conservatory at the back of the cafe where the audience sit huddled around either at tables or in armchairs. It's really cosy!"

Last year was a productive year which saw her perform tracks off her upcoming debut album at the National Portrait Gallery.

The full album is due to be released later this year.

"I would love to be a full time musician and at times have been, but at the moment, I have a part time job as a project secretary. I also teach singing," Josephine said.

"And even though I would love to be a full time performer, it is nice to have the security, social aspect and normality of an office job."

The musician also added: "The first record I bought was Stand By Me, by Ben E King. I was very uncool in my musical taste as a child and teenager. Pop music of the 80s didn't resonate and my listening went from Tchaikovsky, Simon & Garfunkel, Paul McCartney to Lionel Richie, Karen Carpenter and Whitney Houston.

"I discovered Ella Fitzgerald to my 20s and that led me to my love of singing jazz and the Great American Songbook."

The free event starts at 6.20pm and runs until 8pm.

Robin Hood: The Panto

ROBIN Hood and his merry men will take on an evil sheriff, cowardly King John and wicked Queen who have taxed every resident in town to their last penny when a new pantomime hits Banbury.

Will Robin and his gang become the heroes in Sherwood Forest? Or will the sinful threesome get away with their atrocious crimes?

Find out when Robin Hood: The Panto launches this Saturday, January 10.

The show by Cherwell Theatre Company runs until next Sunday, January 18, at The Mills Arts Centre in Spiceball Park Road.

Composer/director Tristan Pate told the Guardian: "We have been a resident company here for 10 years now, so this is our 10th consecutive festive production.

"We have gone all out on this special anniversary year by using original songs, a newly commissioned script (written by members of the company) and we will have our biggest cast ever with over 20 wacky characters!

"We very much enjoy working at The Mill and we are very proud of the reputation we have built.

By James Richings
jamesr@oxfordmanpapers.co.uk

"So we're looking forward to welcoming over 3,000 people this January."

Tickets for the performance have been selling out fast, with limited tickets available for the first few shows.

The director believes the theatre company's local Banbury connection is part of their success.

"This is a 100 per cent homegrown production," Tristan said.

"Not only do we use over 30 local young actors in the show each year, our professional cast of actors, our stage manager and our director all have local roots.

"Given our long history in Banbury, many of our professional team have grown up attending acting classes, taken small roles in our shows, gone on to train and then come back to take a professional turn."

Family tickets cost from £32.

Call 01295 279002 for more information or to book.

Cuckoo's Nest

OXFORD three-piece band Cuckoo's Nest will be at Woodstock Social Club this Saturday, January 10.

The threesome will perform tunes from the 1960s onwards at the venue in Oxford Street, Woodstock, from 8.30pm to 11pm.

Tickets cost £3 for members and £6 for non-members.

Call 01993 812094 for details.

Last Rites

OXFORD and Reading based group Last Rites will be at the city's O2 Academy next Friday, January 16.

The five piece band are known for their heavy metal sound, which has seen the group receive rave reviews from critics.

Doors at the Cowley Road venue will open at 6pm.

Comedy night

KEITH Farnan, Pete Firman, John Gordillo and Andy Robinson will all be at The Glee Club this Saturday, January 10.

The four funnymen will be the first load of comedians to perform at the Hythe Bridge Street comedy club this year.

Tickets will cost from £5 to £14.50.

Beauty and the Beast

A TALE as old as time will be told at Wallingford's Corn Exchange from next week.

Beauty and the Beast will run at the historic Market Place venue starting on Friday January 16 until Saturday January 31.

The 1756 classic by Jeanne Marie Leprince de Beaumont was adapted in 1991 by Walt Disney Animation Studios version.

The show run by Wallingford's Sunshine Players will see the beautiful Belle fall in love with Prince Danlon, who has been transformed into a dangerous looking beast.

Annabelle Buckland, who is playing Belle told the Guardian "I absolutely can't wait to hear the audience's laughter as this is one of the most thrilling aspects of performing live on stage.

"I am especially looking forward to hearing the children laugh, boo, hiss and give their sympathetic support to Belle as The Beast struggles to control his temper so if the audience are laughing, I'm happy".

The 24-year old performer added, "I have been coming to the Corn Exchange to watch the January panto with my family for years.

By James Richings
james.r@oxfordmanpapers.co.uk

"Now to suddenly go from an adoring audience member to principle girl is an enormous honour as is sharing the stage with the hugely talented Samantha Fields (playing The Beast/Prince Danlon).

"I am hugely grateful to Julie Utley (the director) for casting me as Belle."

After graduating from the University of East London this year with a BA in Media and Creative Industries Annabelle now works for Super Camps, a children's holiday camp based in Abingdon.

She said "My colleagues all work are already sick to death of hearing about the latest musical number we've been perfecting at rehearsals.

"However my dream career is to break into radio as this has been my ambition since I was a teenager and I hope one day to use my voice not only on stage wearing a sparkly dress but behind a mic broadcasting to the local community".

Tickets cost £6 to £12.

TOWN HALL HERITAGE TOURS
Join the Museum of Oxford as we take you on a tour around Oxford's magnificent Town Hall. This gem is full of building secrets and still is the place where a lot of the city's decisions for Oxford are made.
There is so much more to this amazing art deco building than the architecture, the stories of the people who have lived and enjoyed this Town Hall, past and present are unknown to and explored by our guides.
All tours start at 11am unless otherwise stated and last approximately 45 minutes to 1 hour.
The Town Hall is fully accessible apart from the crypt which has many uneven levels and several stairs. Rooms visited in tours are subject to availability.
£4.50 (advance booking)
£5.00 (on the day)
£4.00 Concessions (Senior citizens, students and young people under the age of 18 - advance only)
Booking can be made by phone or email. (see details below)

New Alfa means business

REVIEW: Alfa Romeo Giulietta Business Edition

By James Richings

BUSINESSMEN and women of Great Britain are centre of attention as Alfa Romeo launches a new company car to joins its ranks

The Giulietta Business Edition is specifically aimed at the UK business sector

Based on the mid range Alfa Romeo Distinctive model it boasts a set of additional features which are fast becoming essential equipment for high-fliers

Like the current Distinctive trim the Business Edition will have 16-inch alloy wheels, dual zone climate control, rear parking sensors, cruise control, DAB and Bluetooth.

But unlike its predecessor the latest model will have a 6.5-inch Uconnect™ infotainment system upgrade which will have a voice-programmable satellite navigation along with 3D mapping.

The latest addition to the Alfa Romeo family will also have a Visibility Pack to try and help you avoid scrapes, scratches and dents.

The pack will have front parking sensors, rain sensors, a self dimming rear view interior mirror and power folding door mirrors.

The Business Edition offers up more than £2,000 worth of additional equipment compared to the Distinctive model, its on the road price is lower when both are equipped with comparable engines.

The new Alfa Romeo Giulietta Business Edition is now available to purchase and will cost from £18,935 to £20,810.

It is being offered with a choice of four low CO2 engines also designed to be tax friendly, listed below.

Alfa Romeo Giulietta Business Edition	On the road
1.6 JTDM-2 105hp 6-sp manual	£16,990.00
2.0 JTDM-2 150hp 6-sp manual	£20,290.00

Exiles are ready to fight in funding battle

By Jack Johnson
jack@tnglernewspapers.co.uk

LONDON Welsh chairman Bleddyn Phillips says the club s legal battle with Premiership bosses is a fight the club is willing to take on and is hopeful of an outcome this month.

The club have been in discussions over fairer funding rules for newly promoted clubs to the top-flight of English rugby since November.

Mr Phillips says the Exiles are currently receiving around £2million less than the likes of Saracens and Bath and have put a case for parity of funding to Premiership Rugby Limited (PRL) and the Rugby Football Union (RFU).

He believes the current structure has played a part in the club's winless start to the Aviva Premiership which leaves them at the bottom of the table with just one point.

Mr Phillips said: "What we are saying is the system is currently not appropriate not equitable not a level playing field, and that should be a vested interest for this season.

"It is a fight that we are prepared to take on, not just for ourselves but also for any newly promoted club.

"We will look to secure a closure on this in the course of January."

The Exiles are 15 points adrift at the bottom of the table and have fallen short in the latter stages of matches for the majority of the season.

Mr Phillips believes the funding gap has played a huge part in the club s shortcomings on the pitch.

He said: "What is interesting is had we had that extra resource we would have been able to buff up our squad.

"We are not a million miles off the pack and it has only been in the last 15 to 20 minutes where we have lost points because the strength of our bench has not been strong enough."

Other arguments that form the club s case relate to academy franchising and promotion to the Premiership.

Although an Oxford-based club, the Exiles do not have an academy and London Wasps, who now play in Coventry, still hold the franchise for Buckinghamshire as well as parts of Oxfordshire.

• London Welsh chairman Bleddyn Phillips

Mr Phillips also argues that Welsh were disadvantaged by the fact that they only knew their league status for 2014/15 in June when they beat Bristol in the IPA Championship play-offs.

In comparison, the Aviva Premiership season finishes in May.

He added: "I think that puts the promoted club at a disadvantage timing wise.

"It constantly swallows time to prepare for the next season and it could be structured and addressed in a manner that can give the promoted club a chance to promote its case."

Trevett aware of "massive" Newcastle tie

PROP Nathan Trevett says London Welsh are under no illusions about the magnitude of Sunday's match against Newcastle Falcons.

The Exiles are 15 points adrift at the bottom of the Aviva Premiership and two places below Newcastle.

Last Sunday Welsh put in an improved performance against Harlequins but were condemned to their 12th successive league defeat with a 24-13 loss.

And Trevett is fully aware that the Exiles can ill-afford to fall further behind.

The 29 year old said: "It is a massive game.

"They are obviously playing some good rugby and a win could take them to 19 or 20 points.

"We are looking at massive task to get back into that which would then make us look towards catching (second-bottom) London Irish."

The Falcons beat the Exiles 23-3 at the Kassam Stadium in October and assistant coach Gordon Ross expects a tough encounter at Kingston Park on Sunday.

He said: "It will be a different challenge altogether.

"They are a good team they have improved since the start of the season and are playing some pretty good rugby."

City beat Leamington to forget Boxing Day defeat

ADI Yussuf and Lewis Wilson were on the scoresheet as Oxford City began the new year with a convincing 3-1 win at home to Leamington on January 1.

It proved to be sweet revenge for Justin Merritt s side after Leamington ended their five-match winning run with a thumping 4-0 victory on Boxing Day.

However Yussuf's brace and a Wilson strike set City well on the way to a comfortable win on New Year's Day with Jordon Goddard scoring Leamington s goal.

City are currently eighth in the Vanarama Conference North with 37 points only three places and a point below the play-offs.

Merritt s side also have two games in hand over sixth-placed Boston United after last Sunday s trip to Chorley fell foul to the weather and was postponed due to a frozen pitch.

City take a break from the league this weekend as they welcome Conference side Woking to Marsh Lane in the second round of the FA Trophy on Saturday.

The Cardinals are sixth in the top tier of non-league football and only two points adrift of the play-offs.

Saturday will also see a return to Marsh Lane for defender James Clarke who not only played for City but also began his career at Oxford United.

APPLETON ASKS FANS TO REMAIN PATIENT

HEAD coach Michael Appleton says Oxford United's fans will get their rewards if they remain patient

United slipped to a 2-1 defeat at home to Cheltenham Town on January 3, remaining 16th in Sky Bet League Two

Despite dominating the first half an hour United headed into half time 2-1 down and were met with a chorus of boos at the final whistle by a section of the 5,300 strong crowd

Appleton is now calling on supporters to remain calm as he continues to fine-tune his squad

He said: "I'm not here to control it (the booing). I'm here to improve the football club and win games

"I am sure we will do that over a period of time anyway.

"We were outstanding for half an hour and little things in games change the atmosphere around the stadium.

"But players have got to be big enough to deal with that and I am sure they will.

"As for fans, if they are prepared to stay patient they will get their rewards eventually.

"If they are not then they will continue to boo and so be it."

Wes Burns headed United into a well-deserved 20th minute lead but they were unable to punish Cheltenham in a dominant 30 minute spell.

This came back to bite Oxford, as Liverpool loanees Jack Dunn and Kevin Stewart fired the visitors ahead before half time.

United were unable to really threaten Cheltenham in the second half but substitute John Campbell did have a header cleared off the line with 10 minutes to go.

The U's are primed to have a busy January transfer window with players expected to come and go.

David Hunt, Tom Newey and Junior Brown are all available for loan after returning to the club from short term spells at Barnet, Northampton and Mansfield respectively.

Meanwhile, Michael Raynes who announced his departure on Twitter last week, is still to formally leave the club.

Appleton said: "We have got a few players out on loan and potentially they will get renewed until the end of the season.

"In terms of ins we have got a couple of interests we are looking at and we will chase very hard.

"I am also aware that we have got a couple of bodies who are not a million miles away in Pat Hoban and Will Hoskins.

"They will come into the fold very soon so we don't want to start taking on too many players in the same areas."
